Parry McCluer High School
1923-1992

In appreciation for all of his effort and support for Parry McCluer High School we dedicate the 1991-92 yearbook to R. Clayton Camden. Mr. Camden served as the first full time high school principal here at P.M.H.S. from 1955-1962, and ever since, he has been a big fan of the FIGHTING BLUES. As students and athletes, we always look forward to seeing the smiling, friendly face of Mr. Camden. We also look forward to hearing his familiar hollar and cheering. All of our thanks goes out to Mr. Camden. We couldn't have done it without him.

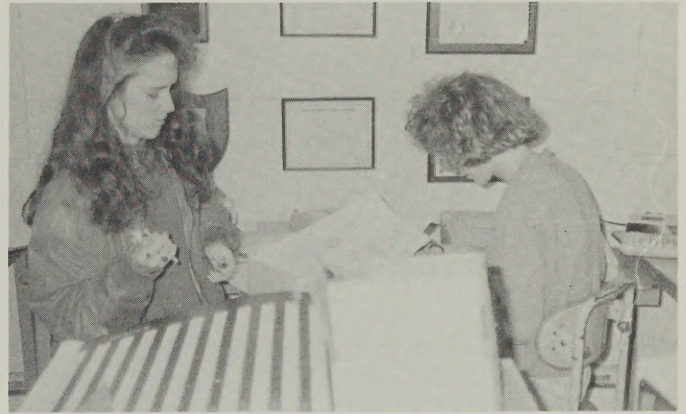

1991-92 YEARBOOK STAFF

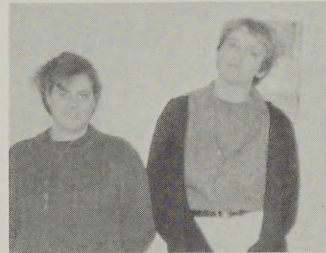

This year the yearbook staff had more members than in the past several years. The year started off with a busy schedule which continued throughout the year. There were important decisions to be made, deadlines to be met, and most important leaders to be chosen. The Senior editors were chosen first by Mrs. Frazier. She chose Melissa Groah and Shelly Sawyer. Other editors were: Kim Hall, Amy Loughhead, Roy Mohler, and Angel Taylor.

The main goal of the 1991-92 yearbook staff was to sell more copies with pictures of all the students. We have all worked very hard to accomplish our goal, and we hope you will agree that this yearbook is a better and more interesting book.

Lisa Davis & Vicki Moore hard at work on the ads.

The yearbook assembly is always a lot of fun.

FRIENDS IN LOW PLACES

Friends in Low Places

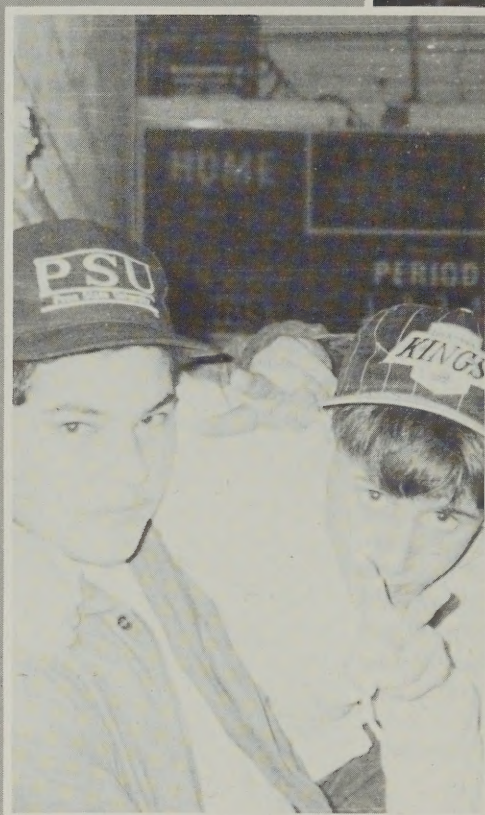

The theme of this year-book is a little different than the years before. We picked this topic mainly because it reminds us of all the good times here in the small town at Buena Vista, and here at Parry McCluer.

We thought "Friends in Low Places" related to all of us because we do, after all, live in a very low place, but we surely can't complain! There may not be much to do here, but as everyone knows, we can always find something to occupy our time. Whether good or bad we don't stay bored for long.

Throughout this year-book you will see how the students of PMHS choose many different ways to spend our time, money, and school days. To us having fun has always been top priority! Maybe that's why we got into so much trouble!

The 1991-1992 school year was a fun and busy year! After its over some will regret the ending and some won't. For the Seniors, we hope the book will remind you of all our old friends in low places.

Earl McDaniel and Kevin Ramsey say "Peace to ya mutha!"

Sharon Carroll, Angel Carroll, and Simone Clark, also known as the Three-Musketeers, pose for the camera.

Leslie Shumate and Whitney Bailey take time from their prissing around to show us their dazzling smiles.

Sheena Woodward, Christie Wilmeth, Amie Coleman, Dee Dee Woodward, and Kristy Floyd have their own personal lunch area.

After a long search, we finally found the posse, Jason Hamilton, Doley Floyd, Kevin Mays, and Lenny Fox.

FRIENDS N FUN

After school in Buena Vista is not always the most exciting place to be! Buena Vista, being a small town, doesn't offer a whole lot of entertainment; but the students somehow find something to keep them busy. Many of the juniors and seniors at PMHS have after school jobs which keep them busy and provide them spending money. Other students who don't have jobs usually sleep, eat at Kenny's, or just ride around.

On the weekends things are a little more lively. Football games in Buena Vista are a big spectacle. After the football season is over, many students can be found at the bowling alley, Roanoke, the movie theater, riding through town, at local restaurants, and if they can find one, a party!

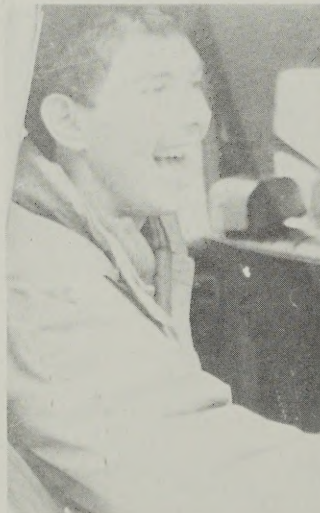

All students at PMHS have different hobbies. They range from shopping, hunting, horseback riding, basketball, and many of the students participate in school sponsored activities. Even though many of the students are different, they will always be bonded together by Parry McCluer and Buena Vista.

Cameron Sherlock gives Donnie Perkins a free bowling lesson.

Kevin Wheeler hollers for his best-friend Fred!!

Leecy Nicely, Nathan Baker, Jason Irvine, Chris Tomlin, Donnie Perkins, and Craig Floyd receive honors from the School Board.

Snow Court reps. were Angel Taylor, Cindy Richardson, Carrie Coleman, and Amy Griffin with escorts: Jason Irvine, Chris Tomlin, Donnie Perkins, and Robbie Shafer.

Jessica Clark, Nikki Camden, and Marcie Catlett get lucky.

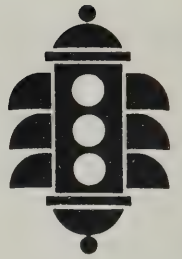

Jackie Floyd and Chris Gibson take a break at Food Lion.

Here, Kim Hall, Amy Tanner, Sammi Ruley, and Whitney Bailey volunteer to paint the United Way sign.

PERSONALIZE IT!

Since cruising is one of our favorite past times, personalized license plates have become very popular. How could you miss John Mac, Keefy 8, I Obseen, or OH Angel. After a while we started to forget the names of football players, and just remember their numbers. There is also the juniors new club that includes: Nea 93, Jess 93, Les 93, Whit 93, and Stace 93. So far we have been able to understand most of these, but a few like Ringer and Otis-Mo still have us stumped!

Say What?!?

Halls full of whispers, notes passed in class, and giggles always clued a "hot flash" had been released. It was always such fun to have a "little ammunition" to hold over your friends or enemies for blackmail! Nothing made Mondays more worthwhile than finding out what went on over the weekend, and with PMHS students, you can bet there was always something!

Kristin Keiser thinks school will be in session on Saturday because of the flooding in Buena Vista!

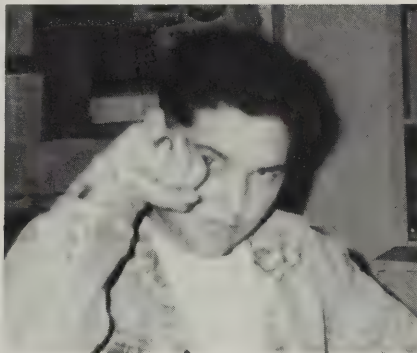

Christie can't believe her eyes!

Earl McDaniel doesn't seem to like the latest rumor about him.

Jackie Floyd can't believe the what he's just heard in the hall, but Barry Knick appears bored.

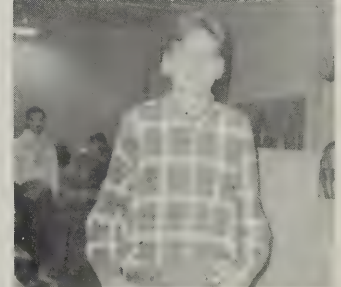

Kris Carter is all ears for the latest gossip in study hall.

Amy Coleman, Laura Cash, and Pam Hardin have heard the latest rumor about the driving age being raised to 18.

Jamie Oyler takes a break from her lollipop to give Troy Hickman a big smile.

"So what?" says Ronnie Campbell says to the latest shop gossip.

FRIENDS FOREVER

Homecoming 1991 was held on Saturday, October 5 while the parade and football game were held the preceding night. The Blues played Stuarts Draft and won 39-7. Everyone was in the best of spirits and ready to boogie.

The representatives for Homecoming were as follows: Seniors, Queen Kristi Ruff escorted by Shawn Zdinak, Crystal Floyd escorted by J.D. Dickinson, Kim Hall escorted by Ellis Tomlin, and Amy Loughhead escorted by Robbie Shafer.

Juniors, Kristin Barger escorted by C.A. Coleman. Sophomores, Angela Shumate escorted by Greg Buzzard; and Freshman, Amy Slagle escorted by Dwayne Duff.

Here are some of the responses received when staff members asked how the night went:

Kristi Ruff : " When I was crowned Queen; I was very surprised and excited."

Crystal Floyd : "Homecoming this year was the best ever because I went with my boyfriend."

Amy Huffman : "Homecoming was better because it was on a Saturday night."

Tellie Jones : "It was a Blast!"

Homecoming Representatives: Seniors — Kristi Ruff, Shawn Zdinak, Crystal Floyd, J.D. Dickinson, Kim Hall, Ellis Tomlin, Amy Loughhead, Robbie Shafer, Juniors — Kristin Barger, C.A. Coleman, Sophomores — Angela Shumate, Greg Buzzard, Freshman — Amy Slagle, Dwayne Duff.

The crown bearers were: Paul Koch and Jordan Moore.

Kristi Ruff is very happy as Mr. Flint is crowning her Queen.

“The day of the pageant, I was a bundle of nerves. Nothing could calm me. After I got on the stage, I realized there was no need to be nervous because I was surrounded by my friends, not competitors. I was crowned, and I was overjoyed at the honor of winning and being able to represent my school.” ...

From ZZ Top to the "Achy Breaky", this was a prom made for . . .

Dancing

The 1992 Junior-Senior Prom was definitely a "Wonderful Night". The colors for the prom were gold, purple, fushia, and emerald green. The prom committee worked hard all day long on Friday to make the Southern Seminary Ballroom look just as perfect as it could; after all, this would be the last "Wonderful Night" for the seniors.

The after-prom party held by SADD was also a great success. Students were "stuffed" after being served pizza, hotdogs, hamburgers and lots of other treats. There was also a hay ride which the students talked about for days. According to the grape vine, the hay ride was "loads of fun".

King and Queen of the prom were Robbie Shafer and Amy Loughhead, a "wonderful couple"!

All in all the night was a tremendous success and one to remember for years to come.

King and Queen Robbie Shafer and Amy Loughhead share a "wonderful" moment during their dance.

Kelly Sears and C.A. Coleman enjoy watching the others dance.

Robbie Dickinson, Jason Barger, Paige Owens, and Kim Gilbert, appear to be having a great time out on the dance floor.

Circle dances were a favorite among this bunch!

Taking a break from the dance floor can be almost as much fun as the dancing.

Class of ...93

The junior year this year has definitely been a wild one for the class. Among our class, we have partiers, rednecks, and a couple of meanies — according to a survey the yearbook staff ran at the beginning of the year.

At a "happening" party, you could always find a member of the junior class. I guess you could say we were just a bunch of party animals.

As juniors, we realized that we only had one more year left at Parry McCluer, and only one more page left to fill in the yearbook. We were anxious about becoming seniors and taking over the hallowed halls; as many before us have done.

To get a real feel for what the juniors are "really like", we asked them, "How would you describe your class in one word?" Here are some of the responses that we received: Leslie Shumate: Authentic; Jason Barger: Rednecks; Marcie Catlett: Drunks; Michelle Hatcher: Creative; Paige Owens: Athletic; Kevin Mays: Meanies; Tellie Jones: Winners; and Kristin Barger: Groovy.

Dwayne Davis: Incredible; Davey Mays: Radical; Christina Nicely: Unique; Angel Black: Wild; David Ramsey: Crazy; Joey Higgins: Exciting.

Dana Zimmerman and Amy Tanner seem to be having a good time on the Junior Homecoming float.

A SHORT Story

As sophomores, the class of 1994 was a little better prepared for high school. The freshmen year, as many of us have already experienced, was a somewhat confusing year. We asked some of the sophomores about this. Here are some of their replies:

J.D. Wheeler : Starting all over; not knowing where to go or what to do.

Craig Floyd : The worst thing was that I was just coming out of middle school, and was already more popular than any of the seniors here in high school.

Joey Bates : Having trouble beating all the senior girls off of me.

Angela Shumate : Just being lost all the time.

Now that the sophomores have overcome that first year, they are ready to take on high school!

A survey was taken to find out whether the Freshman feel that they have more freedom in high school than they did in middle school. Here are a few quotes:

Jenny Henson, says, "Yes, I feel that we get to do a lot more things than we did in middle school. There are a lot more responsibilities."

Stephanie Carter, says,

"I think that high school is just more fun."

Frankie Austin, says, "Yes, I think there is a lot more freedom because you don't have to stand in line to go to class."

Lorrie Chittum, says, "Yes, we do have more freedom because we can buy snacks before school and eat it whenever we want."

NEW FACES

The Freshmen Class of 95 adapted very well to the new surroundings and new faces of Parry McCluer High School. They have a long, hard road ahead of them, but they are working hard and making the best out of the time they have to be here. The Freshman year is extremely difficult for some, and a breeze for some. It takes time to get used to being the youngest when you are used to being the oldest and the leader in middle school. Here are a few quotes from a few of our freshmen:

Kristin Keiser: Teachers are harder and you don't get as many breaks as in middle school. There is a lot more homework.

Dee Dee Woodward: It is a lot better than middle school. You get to see your friends more often. Teachers are different and it is harder.

Sherri Falls: I like High School better. You get to see your friends more, but classes are harder.

Mitchell Harrison: I like it! It is different.

Big Shots

The office administration of Parry McCluer High School were asked what the hardest part of their jobs were and the School Board Administration was asked about year-round schooling. Their responses follow on the next two pages. "Being a cheer-leading sponsor. Sometimes it's not easy to keep a good report with eight young ladies." ... Susan Moore

"Contacting the parents when a student is out of school. Many parents feel this is intruding when actually the school system is trying to protect the student." ... Linda Barger

"I thoroughly enjoy my job and don't find too much of it particularly difficult. One thing I am slightly uncomfortable with is trying to be tactful and not get involved when an irate parent comes into the office." ... Carol Koch

"The year-round program is a wonderful opportunity for the students." ... Judy Watts and Lisa Agnor.

Dr. James C. Bradford: "Year-round education has the potential to be a moving force in the strategy for restructuring the educational programs in each school, and to promote the concept that "all" students can learn."

Raymond C. Leadbetter: "Year-round education began in the Buena Vista Schools in 1973 in an effort to improve the school program at Parry McCluer High School. The year-round program has developed into something that has brought the school-community a great deal of publicity and support. It has continued to be a source of pride for the school administration!"

Wayne D. Flint: "The hardest part of my job is developing a master schedule so that each student can take the courses they requested and making teachers happy when it is completed."

Geralene C. Pryor: Guidance Counselor

Mary Frances Burks: Guidance Counselor

"I honestly enjoy all aspects of my work at Parry McCluer High School.

"The hardest part of my job is assisting students in selecting classes.

SPORTS

Parry McCluer High School has always been dedicated to excellence and the spirit comes through in our sports program.

PMHS is very successful in their sport activities, and at PMHS we are full of pride. PMHS players and coaches have proven time after time that they can stand up to any challenge that they are confronted with.

This dedication does not only apply to them in school, but out of school too. One example of this is that many of the senior athletes are going on to play college sports.

As long as PMHS continues to have outstanding success in the sports program, the City of Buena Vista will always stand out as No. 1.

DEEP IN THE ROUGH

This year's golf team consisted of five seniors and one freshman. The team performed very well in the toughest district in the state. Coach Fox stated that "this year's team was one of the best groups that he had the pleasure of coaching." The players were very coachable and their attitude was exceptional, according to Fox.

This year's record was deceiving at 6-9 because most of the scores were very close. The Blues finished with a 346 best five average and a 348 at the district tournament which was one of the best scores of the season.

J.D. Dickinson said, "We had a lot of fun this year and the relaxed atmosphere helped us more than the other teams."

John McElroy said, "Everyone as a team had a lot of fun and tried their best to make it a winning season."

Chuck Baker said, "I was a son of a gun during this golfing season."

Kevin Pryor admits, "I just can't take it anymore," after his bad luck at the Covington match.

“The funniest thing that happened this year was Mr. Evans’ jokes and always telling us “That’s what she said!” ... Mike Kerr.

“Cross Country is not the most popular sport at school, but the young men who participate work very hard to excel. But I feel no one works harder than Coach Evans.” ... Senior John McElroy.

OVER THE HILLS AND THROUGH THE WOODS

The 1991 Cross Country season was exceedingly satisfying for the team as well as myself. Our basic goal was to put together a team that could effectively compete on the district level. We exceeded our goal.

The team worked hard and played hard. They bonded well as a group. Furthermore, they took it upon themselves to prove to others that cross country is a viable sport at PMHS. A sport that is more than capable of producing extraordinary athletic talent.

The season was satisfying in another way. The cross country team had more potential support in 1991 than I have ever witnessed. We are extremely grateful for the parents, teachers, and others who came to cheer on to victory.

Finally, I proclaim the 1991 Cross Country season a winning season. Not entirely from the standpoint of scores, individual time, and places, but from the hearts and minds of the Fighting Blues Cross Country team members. They made this season a memorable one for me. For this season, I know they are all winners.

1991 Fighting Blues

When Bob Williams entered his 18th season, he had already achieved many goals as a coach. He had coached five state championship teams, and has recently fell short of his sixth, settling for runner-up. He also has eleven Region C titles, and many district championships. Over the years Coach Williams has coached many good football teams.

Coach Williams was helped by four assistant coaches. The first of the four, Dave Ellison, has been with the Blues for many years. Many of Coach Ellison's players feel he is possibly one of the best coaches in the group A division. Coach Ellison cares for his players both in school and out.

The second assistant coach, Charlie Wheeler, plays a very important role in the Blues offensive coaching. He motivates the team tremendously and takes part in all the practices to help the Blues as much as he could.

The third, Mike Turner, is known as a players coach. Coach Turner takes time to help each other individually. He is also very straight forward with his players and expects 100%.

Last but not least, Vince Beasley is also one of the Blues important assistant coaches. At the games, Coach Beasley is very helpful on the side lines by relaying information to the team and other coaches from the press box. Coach Beasley motivates the team and always stands behind his players.

Parry McCluer coaching staff has proven they can take any group of boys and make them into a winning team. These five coaches will always be in the memories of the 91 Fighting Blues and all of their teams before.

J.V. GOES FOR GOLD

Overall the J.V. Football Team had a pretty successful year. The team was made up of a lot of freshman, many who were inexperienced. Nevertheless, the Little Blues ended the season with a record of 7 wins, 1 loss, and 1 tie.

The team was led by Freshman Tricaptains, Andy Hamilton, Dwayne Duff, and Craig Lawhorne.

The one loss encountered by the team was to District Rival, Bath County. Other than this loss the J.V. handled the rest of the district games commendably.

One change for the J.V. team this year were the two new assistant coaches, Rad Patterson, and Tony Brads. The little blues were also coached by head coach Mike Craft.

Our school was very proud of our little blues, and supported them throughout their winning season!

"I think we had an excellent season considering the competition we faced. This was not the most talented team we have had, however they were a good group to work with," says Coach Craft.

RISING BLUES

The girls junior varsity basketball team ended their season with a 12-8 record. These rising blues show great achievement and look to be a promising varsity team.

Rising blue Stephanie Carter says, "J.V. Basketball was very fun. We learned how to get along with each other. I think we did very good for a J.V. team. We also learned to respect other people's feelings. Mr. Downs was a very fun and good coach to play for and I really enjoyed myself."

Another rising star, Misty Snider says, "I believe our girls J.V. team had a successful year and we improved in many areas. We accomplished our main goal — to have fun."

TEAM WORK

The girls varsity basketball team finished the season with a 9-12 record. Overall, they encountered a descent match-up with their opposing teams and took each game in stride. Several players had an outstanding year, and many personal goals were achieved.

We asked some of the players what goals they achieved during the season: Dani Williams says, "This season proved to be a challenging one. We achieved our goal of improving our record. One of my goals was to always practice good sportsmanship. This wasn't always easy, but I achieved my goal."

Martha Glass says, "When the season began I had goals set for myself, but I really wanted the entire team to all work hard and improve our record from last year."

Shelly Slagle, said, "I think the team improved a lot from last year."

Johan Coleman says, "that's mine, I saw it first!", as she puts up a struggle to hold on to the ball during the game against Rock-bridge.

Mr. Downs says, "I probably had as much fun this year coaching the J.V. Girls as I have had in my 21 years of coaching. The girls steadily improved over the course of the year and worked very hard."

Mr. Hand says, "We regained respectability within our district by compiling a 9-7 district record therefore we met and exceeded our expectations and hopes to have a more promising season next year."

Troll Power

The 1991-92 Volleyball season went over rather well this year, with an overall record of 11-4. Coach Bleech feels that the girls had a great season. He had 5 out of the 6 returning starters off the last year's team. He is looking forward to next year, and he will be losing only one starter. Being a new coach he didn't know what to expect of the girls. He found out that he had a great group of girls and made the season very successful. He enjoyed his first year as a coach and can not wait until next year. He hopes to either better the record next year or do just as well. One disappointment through the season was losing to Lexington as everyone knows that Parry McCluer and Lexington are big rivalries! Knowing that the girls will not be able to play Lexington next year is a big disappointment.

Showing her grace, Amy Tanner dinks the ball.

"Let's hear teamwork!"

"It's out!", screams junior Jessica Clark.

"We had a great year, but with 12 of the 14 team members coming back next year, we should be better."

The 1991-92 J.V. Volleyball Team had a very successful season in that all of their goals were reached.

Goal One: To be competitive. This was accomplished by compiling a .500 record, finishing with 6 wins and 6 losses.

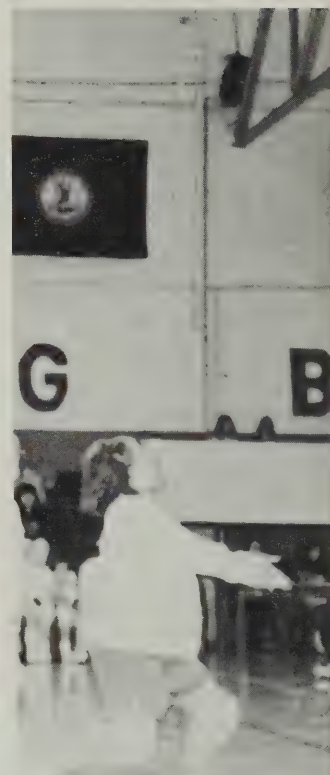

Goal Two: To get all players experienced in the game. This was accomplished by having many players participating in various roles. Also, each player contributed to overall team success in many ways.

Goal Three: To have fun! Despite having a rather large team, players never complained about personal playing time or other related problems. Team members cheered for, encouraged, and learned from each other. Team moral remained high throughout the season! ... Coach Brads

100%

The 1991-1992 J.V. Basketball team coached by Rad Patterson, finished the year with another outstanding record. The little Blues finished 14-6, in third place. Only an overtime loss to Bath County which ended with a last second shot by the little Blues; kept them out of the District Tournament.

The team had a lot of sophomores and were well experienced, and well coached. When Rad Patterson asked what he liked about this years team, he said, "They were a good group because they played a lot together, made good decisions, and gave 100% effort on the court."

Good As Gold

The 1991-92 PMHS Varsity Basketball team finished the season with an impressive 11-11 record, and a trip to the pioneer district tournament. They also won one game, and ended up losing to a tough James River squad.

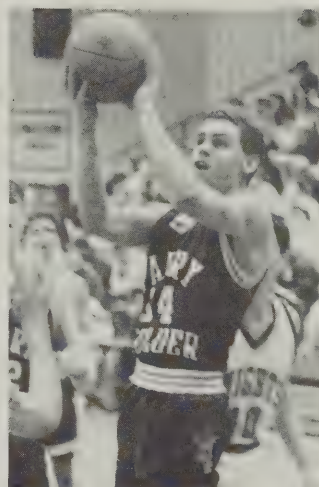

Although the Big Blues record is not the best the team has seen, they did earn a lot of respect coming back from the past three years where they failed to even reach a .500 record.

The Big Blues have a very young and talented team. The athletes showed a lot of guts, sportsmanship, and proved in each of their games that they could not be taken lightly. All and all the blues had a good season, and with no doubt, they will be even better next year.

This year's team was very unselfish and hard working. Even though the team was young and started off slow, we played very well at the end of the season. Although the senior leadership of Shawn Zdinak, Chuck Baker, and Leslie Gray will be difficult to replace, the returning players will make next year's team look very promising.

The Blues finished with a 11-11 record, was runner-up in the Christmas Tournament, and narrowly missed making the regional tournament.

PMHS GRAPPLERS

The 1991-92 Parry McCluer Wrestling Team ended their season this year with three medal winners in the Single A State Tournament. This years team was very young, but they had the desire to win. This years team returned to the Matthews Dual Tournament. Two of the state placers will return next year. Jason Hamilton, a third place winner, and Robbie Dickinson, a state champion should be tough next year. There also was a senior medal winner, Jason Brockenbrough. He put up a gallant effort and received sixth place in the state. Other returners next year will be Andy Hamilton, Todd Stinnett, Craig Lawhorn, Chad Hamilton, Greg Buzzard, Kevin Ramsey, Jeff Coleman, and Jason Barger.

The PMHS wrestling team was coached by Mike Craft, and Haywood Hand. Both coaches said that this years team was a group of hard working young men. There were a group of young men at practice every day that are still in the middle school. So our PMHS wrestling team will be back stronger than ever next year.

Coach Craft said . . . “We had a young and inexperienced team this year, so we had some problems with more experienced teams. However, we were still very competitive, and we will be looking forward to an even better season next year.”

Short Season

I ndoor track, it's not a sport of pure skill. It's a sport of hard work and dedication. It's who wants it more, who is willing to put forth 100% when there seems to be none left. This is what we have at Parry McCluer and we're proud of the men and women on the indoor track team.

Although the 1992 indoor track team had a successful year, there were not a lot of members on the team. Although there were many returners from last year's team, including: John McElroy, Wayne Perez, and Jason Broughman who are seniors. The team also included juniors, sophomores, and freshman. And don't forget Stephanie Rhodes who was the only girl on the team. The team had a lot of fun.

Head Coach Mike Turner, who took over for now retired Coach Camper, had this to say about the team: "They were extremely hard workers. They were a group of dedicated and hard working young men and women. They were a enthusiastic group even though they were out numbered. Their times and distance improved because of their hard work. Overall we had a pretty successful year."

The team was said to have a successful season, even though they failed to win a meet because they competed against all Triple A opponent.

Get 'Em Roots!

The 1992 Girls Softball Team started out on a rocky road to improvement. There were many changes to be made and some that had already been made such as a new head coach Earl Downs. Downs started the season with a lot of advice, hustle, and encouragement which got the team off on the right foot.

The team consisted of only two seniors, five juniors, five sophomores and four freshmen; a fairly young team compared to its competitors. Fortunately, seven of the team members were returning starters from the previous year.

Although the year's statistics were not great, a lot of improvement was made. Many of the players were in new positions and a lot of the players had never even played the game before. With all of this stacked against the Lady Blues, their spirits were always high as well as their determination to give it their best shot. However, it was discouraging to some when the girls came out with a loss by only one or two points. But even though they would get discouraged, the Lady Blues took on team after team with an excellent attitude and played tough until the end of the season.

UP AND DOWN

The Parry McCluer Baseball Team had an up and down season. They finished 9-9 and 5-3 in the district. They were one win away from going to the district tournament, but fell short to Natural Bridge in the last game of the season.

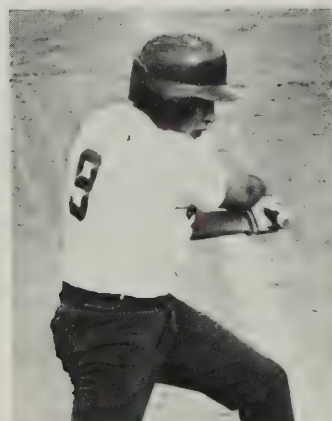

The Blues actually had a good year after starting the season 0-4. There were five seniors on the squad who all played important roles. They were: catcher, Jason Irvine, second baseman, Donnie Perkins, shortstop and third baseman, Roy Mohler, Right fielder, Jason Brockenbrough, and left fielder and pitcher, Chuck Baker.

Small But Determined

"Parry McCluer's Outdoor Track Team did a good job despite being undermanned. (Twelve high school boys and one eighth-grader and five girls.) We finished in the middle in most league meets and the boys were sixth in a field of ten at the districts. The girls did even better with a fourth place finish. Of seventeen eligible team members more than half (9) qualified for the regionals. John McElroy finished fourth in the 800m and went on to the state championship meet.

Although John didn't place at the state, he had a great year as did Cindy Richardson and Robbie Dickinson. Cindy scored a record 170 points during the season." Coach Bodley

"The track season was a success in anyone's book. We took a small group of determined athletes and had more than a respectable season. It was the 'team spirit' that made the season worthwhile. We are looking forward to a great season next year." Coach Bleech

District Leaders

The 1992 Boys Tennis Team had a "very good year", according to Coach Tutt. The team came in second in the district and ended the season with a 6-2 record.

The team qualified and competed in the regional tennis tournament. This marked the first time that the boys team has even been able to participate in the regionals.

"This was a very young team and I hope to have every one back next year," said Tutt.

Up and Down

The Parry McCluer Boys J.V. Baseball team had an up and down season. This finished 4-9, but lost several games by only a point or two.

They started the year off winning their first two games. Their run support for each game was excellent. The team averaged eight runs a game and had one game where it scored 15 runs and still lost. First-year Coach Haywood Hand said, "Due to our inexperience at the pitching position, we lost several games by close margins. Next year we will be more experienced which will result in more victories."

Overall, the team did well and if they can carry over their run support for next year, then they will be tough to beat.

What do you consider cheerleading? We, as cheerleaders, hear so often "You girls don't do anything."

Well, we're not the ones holding the ball or making the plays, but we work hard behind the scenes. You don't always see us, but we put a lot of time and effort into keeping our school spirit alive.

Going to camp, practicing every week, preparing pep rallies, spirit week and especially Homecoming requires a lot but, we don't mind all of this, because we love our school and enjoy promoting school spirit.

Displaying high spirits, the cheerleaders lead the crowd in a mighty roar at the state semi-finals football game.

Posing for a final picture, seniors Amy Loughhead and Kim Gilbert seem a little sad to say goodbye.

What makes girls try out for cheerleading? We asked this question to our J.V. girls. Here are some of the responses: "It's something that I've wanted to do every since I was little," Sarah Tomlinson. "Because I thought cheerleading would be fun and exciting," Shonna Lynn. "My friends influenced me, but I already had my mind set on it anyway because I loved it when I was a little league cheerleader," Stephanie Tomlinson. "Cheerleading is just something that I've always wanted to do." Tracey Tomlin.

Almost There

Grades are a part of every student's academic life here at Parry McCluer High School. Whether or not the grades are good, most students feel that they got the grades that they deserved. Some students were disappointed that they did not make the honor roll this time, but said they would try next time.

When asked if they agree with having grades as a measure of how much was learned in academic classes, most students agreed with the grading system. Some felt that grades were important for knowing where their strengths and weaknesses are in the subject. Some feel that grades are important in being able to get into the college of their choice.

When others were asked this same question they disagreed with the system. They felt that students should be graded on class participation, attitude, behavior, and understanding of the material that was covered.

When Mr. Lockett was asked how he thought the first quarter grades were, he responded, "I didn't feel they were that great. They were some of the worst that I've seen in the 23 years that I've been teaching." He said that these grades were not necessarily in his classes, but in all of the students' classes.

On the whole, grades seem to be important to most of the students. Students try to get better grades and work hard to get the grades they do get.

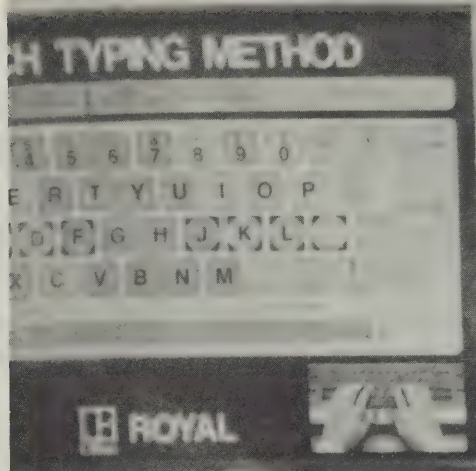

Stephanie Flint, April Garrett, and Dawn Tolley gossip over their nightly activities.

Chris Tomlin and Chris Wright are taking it easy and staying out of trouble.

Nicky Chittum, David Truslow, and Jeff Coleman work hard on accounting sets.

Jackie Floyd carefully examines his project at Vo-Tech.

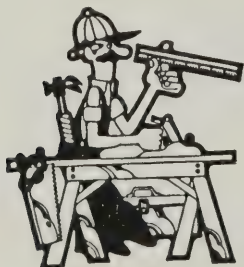

STUDENTS AT WORK

School is made up of many different kinds of classes. Some are the traditional lecture, notes, quizzes, and test type of class, but there are many classes that aren't. In these classes students take the knowledge they learn in the classroom and apply it to the hands-on work.

In some classes, students take math and science learned in the classroom, to complete projects needed in some fields of work. These classes include: Shop, Vo-tech, and Technical Drawing Classes.

The students seem to enjoy these classes and benefit from the extra learning experiences they offer.

Jason Broughman uses the computer to do a drawing for technical drawing class.

Kevin Ramsey displays a sign that the Drama Class had just finished making for their performance.

Doley Floyd wonders where to start on his upcoming articles for newspaper.

Wesley Presnell holds it steady while Charlie Humphreys drills the holes on Wesley's shop project.

Students visit and see the real world through

Trips

Field trips are important in all curriculums. They provide students with hands on experiences in learning and allow them to use their imaginations on how school work prepares them for the "real world". Students and teachers alike enjoy them; not to mention getting a break from the classroom.

The senior class took several field trips this year; the most they've been on in their entire high school career. I believe that it had something to do with "misconduct" on prior trips. The class went to Washington, D.C. and Kings Dominion as a class and a variety of other trips with the clubs and organizations in the school.

The sophomores took their annual hike to Crab Tree Falls. Although many thought the trip up was hard work, the view from the top was well worth the effort.

Seniors Leecy Nicely, Crystal Coleman, Crystl Floyd, and Katie Grow help out at the polls during the November 5 election.

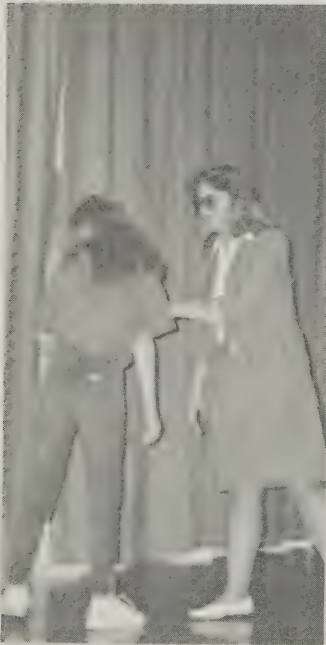

After going to view various other landscaping projects, these Science Club members came up with an idea of their own: Jennifer Porterfield, April Chittum, Tara Davis, Wayne Perez, Jeff Huffman, Mike Campbell, and Clay Garrett.

Mr. Fox awards Dwayne Duff for his achievement in P.E.

Assemblies

Enrich Academics

Although assemblies give students a good excuse to get out of class, they also allow students to enjoy drama performances, band concerts and current issues. Students are allowed freedom of motivation and creativity in preparing material of their own to present to the student body. This is not only a good learning experience, it also makes school a lot of fun.

Students are also given a chance to be kept up-to-date on the current issues that are the most important to them. For example the AIDS Awareness Assembly not only gave students a chance to get factual information, but they were allowed a lengthy question and answer period where they could be completely candid and honest with what they are unsure about.

Another good current issue assembly was presented in the fall by the 1992 election candidates. Each candidate was allowed to present the material he or she felt was most pertinent and important to the students of Parry McCluer and in turn the students were allowed to ask questions.

Assemblies enrich school life and also allow for the recognition of those students who have made outstanding accomplishments.

CLUBS

There are a wide variety of clubs at Parry McCluer. There are clubs for business students, honor society members, actors, band members, SCA, and those who are searching for their talents.

Students don't seem to mind rearranging their busy schedules to attend an important club meeting. These clubs do require a lot of time but they are full of willing bodies who enjoy the club activities.

You will find that each club has their own fund-raiser to help support their cause. The clubs have been very successful this year, as they have always been at Parry McCluer.

Michelle Hatcher says she really enjoys the German Club. She enjoys selling candy bars and suckers, and she feels that going different places with the club is a lot of fun. Michelle joined this club because she likes to help out in every way she can.

Ronnie Campbell seems to enjoy the Spanish Club very much. The Spanish Club has started a Spanish-English Newsletter and they are beginning to show Spanish movies. Ronnie became interested in the Spanish Club because he wanted a chance to do fun things that pertain to the Spanish language and culture.

Scott McCormick enjoys being a Peer Helper because he feels it is very fun and interesting. Scott enjoys the chance to help people, and feels that people feel better about themselves after talking with a Peer Helper. The Peer Helpers have done programs with the children at the elementary schools, and programs were also held on how to help people solve their problems. All of these programs were very helpful.

Doley Floyd really enjoys the Newspaper Staff. Doley says that he has taken pictures and wrote stories, and sold ads. Doley enjoys taking pictures the most. Doley's goal is to become a photojournalist and he believes the Newspaper Class is helping him achieve his goal.

Mrs. Teague awards Becky Wise cutest costume for winning the SCA sponsored costume contest.

German Officers visiting VMI came to Parry McCluer to give a presentation to our German Club students about the ways in their country.

Marcie Catlett has really enjoyed the Science Club this year. She especially enjoys the landscaping project that the club has been working on this year. Marcie joined the Science Club because she is interested in Science and she knew the club would do many fun things.

Band

Has 1st Rate Year

"It was fun having band competitions, and going on trips. Representing our town and our school is important to me." ... Jenny Henson.

The Parry McCluer High School Band has accomplished many things this year. At the Franklin County Classic, Rifles and Majorettes both placed first. The band rating is good. They placed first in the labor day parade and first in the Buena Vista Christmas Parade. This year the band hosted the 19th annual B.V. band parade. They were in the Labor Day parade and also the B.V. and Lexington parades. They were also in the Mock Convention parade and the Centennial parades. New uniforms were purchased this year also. In the future, the band hopes to compete in Orlando, Fla., in the spring of '93. They also wish to make the 20th annual B.V. Band Day a big success, and increase the quality and quantity of the band. Some of the members had this to say about the year: "I liked it because we got into the games free, and it was fun performing in front of people. It was also fun going to JMU and Franklin County, and getting to meet people from other bands." ... Kristin Keiser.

PLAYTIME

Amy Richardson announces the cast of the Christmas Play presented by the Drama Club.

The Drama Club year was a very progressive one. The drama students learned the basic essentials needed to act. The students studied a book which taught various things such as the power of drama. The students also learned about characters, settings, plots, dialogue, and play structure. The drama students learned to act in comedy scenes as well as in tragic ones.

The Drama Club performed two plays: Christmas Hope, written by Kirsten DeReus; which was performed for all schools. They also performed Robin Hood. The drama club also performed Rock On, which included a chorus.

Mrs. Dawn Dickinson was the sponsor of the Drama Club, and the Drama Club president was none other than Robin Hood himself, Jason Irvine.

It's A Dirty Job . . .

The Communications Class, taught by Mr. Mike Craft, had a very industrious year.

The communication students study four basic areas such as . . . photography, screen printing, offset printing, and mechanical design.

The communications class also does various things for the school system such as . . . printing programs for football and other school related activities. Communication students also develop pictures that are needed by the school system.

When communication students were asked how they felt about the class, they said: the class was a great learning experience and very enjoyable.

Newspaper Staff Had A Great Year

Parry McCluer's Newspaper, the "Blue Print" had a very prosperous year. The "Blue Print" issues two newspapers each month. One student edition, and one home edition.

The newspaper staff had various fund raisers, including selling valentine flowers and gifts to both middle and high school students. The "Blue Print" staff also sponsored a K-92 dance March 13, 1992. The event proved to be very successful.

Each issue of the "Blue Print" includes the following: sports, student highlights, upcoming events, guidance news, clubs, and class news.

The basic funding of the "Blue Print" comes from the selling of advertisements to local businesses. These advertisements are included in the "Blue Print" each month. Additional funding comes from the student edition sales.

Thanks "Blue Print" staff for such a great year!

Students and Community Work Together

This year, 1992, Buena Vista celebrates its centennial. One hundred years ago, in 1892, Buena Vista was founded by Benjamin C. Moomaw. The city celebrated in many ways by a performance of Spirit of '92-A historical drama, students getting the chance to teach for a day in the high school, and working in the downtown businesses. There was a centennial wedding at the memorial fountain downtown, and the biggest ever centennial parade. Many businesses around Buena Vista decorated their windows to show their appreciation to the centennial and many men grew beards to show their appreciation too. Welcome to Buena Vista signs were put up as you come into town to celebrate the 100 years we have had in Buena Vista.

Leecy Nicely & Tracey White enjoy working in the high school office during student's day.

Crystal Coleman looks interested while working at Becky's during our "students take over downtown businesses for a day."

Nikki Camden learns about the job of her choice during "students take over downtown businesses for a day."

During the centennial, one of the projects was cleaning up the city.

The first lady of Buena Vista looks proud to be recognized.

Saying Goodbye

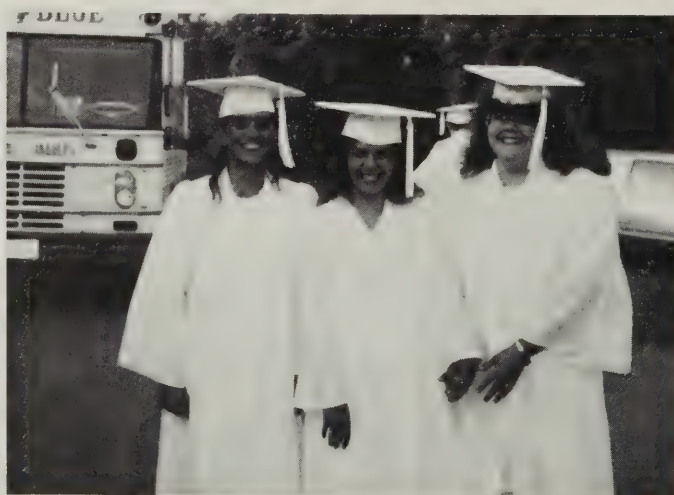

"Saying goodbye isn't always easy, especially to the people we've grown accustomed to seeing every day for many years. We think of it like this: it's time to move on to bigger and better things, but we'll always remember our friends, all of the fun times, and the wonderful city of Buena Vista. The Class of '92 is a small graduating class but it's a very memorable one. We've all grown very close to one another and departing definitely isn't easy. So, goodbye and best of luck to the graduates of 1992." Amy Loughhead

Crystal Coleman says goodbye to a fellow student.

Jayde Dickinson is all smiles with his diploma in hand.
